Distributor Announcement – CNC Design

We are pleased to announce that our long-term distribution partnership with CNC Design for Australia and New Zealand has now be expanded to include Thailand, Vietnam, Indonesia, Singapore and Malaysia. CNC Design is in these countries our authorized distributor for Güdel products, and service partner. In addition, CNC Design is in the listed countries Güdel's Partner to support our Solution Business.

Established in 1984, CNC Design has been our partner in Australia and New Zealand since 2008. They have over 30 years of experience in the machine tool and automation industries, and established offices and experienced people in South East Asia. The new agreement uniquely positions them to offer the best solutions available and deliver the highest level of customer service.

“CNC Design and Güdel are working since many years together and are together successful in the market. With the extension of the representative agreement for the territory in South East Asia, this cooperation is lifted to the next level. CNC Design is a highly regarded distributor offering both technical and logistical expertise for customers in the region.” – said Armin Haller, Chief Sales Officer of Güdel Group AG Switzerland. “We are very happy and pleased with this cooperation with CNC Design and the fact that our customers in South East Asia can now rely on their local support.”
